April 2018

Evolving to create greater development impact

PIDG is evolving. Today we have announced a new governance structure which will allow us to do more, better.

Through improved collaboration between our companies we will strengthen our investment capacity and enhance our ability to combat poverty in the world’s lowest-income countries.

Read PIDG CEO Philippe Valahu’s blog to find out more.

PIDG news

Promoting gender equality and empowerment

PIDG launched a new report about how infrastructure can deliver positive outcomes for women in low-income countries, on International Women's Day. This will inform the development of a gender impact measurement tool for projects we support. Read more.
One of sub-Saharan Africa’s first water PPPs

On World Water Day, we celebrated the success of the Kigali Bulk Water project, which will provide a clean supply for 500,000 people. Read EAIF executive director Emilio Cattaneo’s World Bank PPP blog.

Supporting locally financed power in Nigeria

InfraCredit has issued its maiden guarantee, supporting new power infrastructure and unlocking investment from Nigeria’s pension and insurance funds for the first time. Read more.
Allianz invests $120m in Emerging Africa Infrastructure Fund

The loan is the first long term commitment from a commercial investor in a donor-backed African infrastructure fund and an important milestone in our work to mobilise new sources of private sector investment. Read more.

PIDG project spotlight

Mali - EAF and GuarantCo provided innovative finance to support the country’s first private sector solar farm.

Vietnam - InfraCo Asia's 168MWp solar farm in Nin Thuan province will be among the first in the country, providing a template for the future.

Guinea - InfraCo Africa backed the country's first grid-connected solar farm, adding 40MWp of renewable energy to the country's 566MW national grid.

India - GuarantCo has guaranteed the issue of a local currency international green bond, supporting the acquisition of clean power plants.

Find out more about our companies

Click the image below to download our introduction to PIDG.
PIDG is a multi-donor organisation with members from seven countries and the World Bank Group.

If you are interested in funding our work please contact PIDG CEO Philippe Valahu.